CHARGE VAUGHAN NOT DIVORCED WHEN MARRIED MRS. SHAFFER

Contest Says Fake Spirit Messages Used In Alleged Scheme

DECLARE HUSBAND DIVERTED $40,000

Document Filed In Fight Over Big Estate Full of Sensations

Declaring that Leonard O. Vaughan had a wife living and undivorced when he married Mrs. Martha Shaffer on Jan. 2, 1914, and alleging that Vaughan schemed to marry her and did marry her through playing upon her spiritualistic beliefs, and asserting that it was through false statements that the woman willed her property to Vaughan, nephew and niece of Mrs. Martha Vaughan today brought a contest of her will.

That such a contest would be brought was asserted at the time Attorneys H. J. Forgy and H. C. Head filed the will for probate. P. E. Hatch, a Long Beach banker, is the petitioner for letters as executor.

The attack upon Vaughan, however, is even more sensational than had been conjectured by many of those who knew that a contest was to be brought.

The contestants charge that Vaughan's marriage to the woman is invalid because at the time he married her he had a wife living and undivorced.

Mrs. Vaughan had property variously estimated as worth from $100,000 to $200,000. It included the Temple Theater building in Santa Ana and a walnut orchard and residence on North Main street outside the city limits.

The contest document alleges that Mrs. Vaughan, before her marriage to Vaughan, had long been a monomaniac upon Spiritualism, and that she fell a victim to designing persons. It is declared that Vaughan used fake messages in carrying forward his plans to get possession of her property.

Attorneys R. Y. Williams and A. W. Ruten and Clyde Bishop represent the contestants, who are nephews and nieces of the deceased Mrs. Vaughan. They are Elizabeth Kirk, Irene Little, Laura E. Griffin, John E. Cowles, H. A. Cowles and Olive Hullinger.

The contesting document divides its allegations up under nine divisions. It is Sections 8 and 9 that are to be relied upon by the contestants to break the will.

The will, which was filed two weeks ago, leaves practically the entire estate to Vaughan. There is a paragraph in it which states that it is the desire of Mrs. Vaughan that some sum of money is to go to the Spiritualists. No sum is named. Declaring faith in her husband, to him is left full authority to use whatever sum he sees fit in the Spiritualistic cause. Only about $5,000 under the will would go to nephews and nieces.

A resume of the nine sections of the contest follow.

It is alleged by the contestants: 1. That the said Martha M. Vaughan, whose true name was Martha M. Shaffer, was in feeble health and in an enfeebled mental condition when she married L. O. Vaughan on Jan. 2, 1914, and continued so to her death.

2. That for many years Mrs. Shaffer was a spiritualist, and became so impressed with the powers of mediums that her delusion became a monomania.

3. That she was so carried away with her delusions that when she came to build her residence on North Main street she built a room in which there were no corners, because mediums told her that spirits from the other world would not come unless there were no corners, because they feared they would hurt themselves in the corners. That this room was used for many years as a seance room, where purported mediums pretended to bring messages to Mrs. Shaffer and in particular messages from her deceased husband, Uriah Shaffer, which messages were acted upon in the conduct of her affairs.

4. That prior to Jan. 2, 1914, she

HEATLESS, POWERLESS ORDER WILL AFFECT WIDE RANGE INDUSTRY

Causes a virtual industrial shutdown east of the Mississippi. Theaters and other amusement places must go fuelless on the Mondays from Jan. 21 to March 25.

Department stores will be heatless Mondays, but buildings containing government offices, banks, doctors and dentists' offices will be exempted.

There must be washless laundries on the workless days as they are deemed manufacturing plants.

Groceries and drug stores can be heated and likewise schools.

A select list of vital war plants are exempted. Railroads, shipping, public institutions, houses and apartments, strictly government plants but not United States war contract factories, public utilities, are all allowed to have heat.

Trolley service will be made to conform to holiday schedules on the workless Monday.

Saloons will be closed on workless Mondays.

Papers will print as usual but on Mondays cannot run more editions than they do on legal holidays. If the paper does not issue on a holiday it may publish once on Monday.

MUD, WATER NOT DETERRING MEN IN TRENCHES

BY J. W. PEGLER
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY IN FRANCE, Jan. 18.—Mud and water knee deep over the entire American zone is not stopping the Sammies' war training today.

Steady torrential rains have eradicated the snow and engulfed the valleys with rushing torrents of flood water. Even hilltop trenches are more than ankle deep in water. Others are knee deep in icy cold slush.

The Sammies keep unceasingly at their war work charging through seas of mud or standing water with their shiver-producing war gear pouring over their leggings. Battalions marching from their billets to the training ground are frequently compelled to wade almost knee deep at places where the water has overflowed the roads.

SENATE COMMITTEE REPORTED TODAY ON CHAMBERLAIN STATUTE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—The Senate military affairs committee today reported on the Chamberlain bill, providing for a director of munitions. This is to be followed by a measure creating a war cabinet or council to have complete control of the war program and policies subject only to the President's direction.

The munitions director is to have control of the purchases for all departments, including war, navy and shipping board, according to this bill.

PAMPHLETS, LECTURES AND MOVIES USED TO BOLSTER TEUTON ARMY

BY WILLIAM PHILIP SIMMS
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
WITH THE BRITISH ARMIES IN THE FIELD, Jan. 18.—The Prussian propagandists' guns are today turned toward their own troops.

By lectures, pamphlets and the movies attempt is being made to restore to doubtful soldiers the before-the-Marne belief that they are unconquerable.

The propaganda is not ineffective. Prisoners talk confidently of the proposed drive on the west front.

From German prisoners it is known America is being ceaselessly ridiculed.

The United States has taken the place of Britain as "contemptible" in the German lexicon. The German soldiers are being told that stories of a big American army are "bluff," that when the Yanks are put to the test they will fail to make good. None of the prisoners consider America a factor, believing the war will be finished before "the windbags" (as their propagandists term the Americans) can get under way.

FOOD PLANTS IN EAST EXEMPTED BY REVOKING COMMAND

Many Manufacturing Plants Preparing to Pay Employees During Idle Period

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—Sweeping modifications of the industrial order put in effect by Garfield were made today. Twenty-three steel plants and various forms of business, mainly those related to food manufacture and distribution were exempted.

All big manufacturing centers are observing the order with some indication that a fair percentage of the employees will pay wages during the period of idleness. The United States Steel Corporation probably will not pay its employees for the last time, it is stated. Ford will pay all who are not day laborers, and thus paid daily.

The situation seems to be calming down and business is resolved "to be good soldiers" and for most part, accept the order.

BY ROBERT J. BENDER
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—American industry today began the sacrifice of millions that the national railroad may release scores of supply ships lying helpless in our harbors.

Through an order issued by Fuel Administrator Garfield, effective at midnight, business and labor started a five-day period of idleness east of the Mississippi that coal for the ships may have the right of way. Nine Mondays thereafter similar shutdown orders will be in effect.

Forty-three exceptions in industries affected by the most sweeping regulation that ever shook this country assured that pressing war work would not be interrupted.

A statement by Garfield defending his action in the face of overwhelming senate vote to hold up the order for five days, declared it was necessary to clear congested piers, fill empty steamers and avoid further congestion which might delay shipment of supplies to France.

Assumes Responsibility
Garfield himself accepts full responsibility for the order which stunned the nation.

To modify, if possible, some of the hardships it imposes, he has asked the industrial kings to bear the loss cheerfully and see that the burden does not fall on the working man, through loss of wages on idle days.

Millions of such wages and greater millions in production are involved in the industrial suspension. Answering complaint on this score, Garfield declared:

"There are thousands in Europe and more still to go there who will lose more wages or income."

Having given the president authority to act in such cases as the present, congress has burned its bridge, behind it so far as the Garfield order is concerned. The only step which could be taken to make the order ineffective would be to repeal the food law immediately—and that is not thought of seriously.

That the law may later be amended to strip it of some of its powers, however, is hinted at by some today.

Protests Continue

Today opened up with another avalanche of protests from many parts of the country on the Garfield order. Demands that its period of effectiveness be curtailed were made to the president and congress. But there appeared little likelihood that any modification of the original regulation would be made. If anything it may be rendered more sweeping if present industrial restrictions do not clear the tracks for coal.

Congress was indignant at Garfield's ignoring the senate request to hold up the order. Already the spirit is abroad in the capital to see that no further laws are passed that may permit precipitation of such sweeping regulations upon the country without congressional sanction.

But in many quarters there is expression of belief that had Garfield originally issued the statement he made last night instead of announcing what he intended to do before he himself knew exactly its score, there would have been less confusion and protest.

Order Signed at 5:40
Garfield signed his order about 5:40 o'clock yesterday. It was officially stated today. This was a few minutes before the senate passed its resolution asking him to postpone five days the

WILSON STANDS BACK OF FUEL CHIEF IN BAN ON INDUSTRY

Executive Believes Within Three Weeks People Will Be Reconciled to Act

BY ROBERT J. BENDER
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—President Wilson stands squarely behind Fuel Administrator Garfield in enforcement of his unprecedented industrial suspension order effective today east of the Mississippi.

It may be stated officially that the president will not revoke the order, and that he feels within three weeks the people of the country will accept it as having been vitally necessary.

That the move has created "an unfortunate situation," is admitted, but that things "will assume an entirely different aspect soon," is predicted. The administration bases its hope for this on the following:

Ships loaded with supplies tied up in American harbors will be on the move.

Loaded coal cars stalled along tracks while great fuel needs are suffered at many points, will be delivered to their destination.

Freight congestion at all terminals and ports will be smashed. The way will be cleared for industries, after the period of the suspension order has passed, to resume normal operation with assurance of nearly normal delivery henceforth.

Oppose Means Used

That this may prove true is admitted by all, but the violent opposition comes against the manner of accomplishing these things. Leaders in congress—many of the strong administration supporters—and government officials declare Garfield sought "the path of least resistance," and avoided a businesslike plan.

They insist that an order could have been issued providing that coal be withheld from industries until ships had been provided with bunker coal. By this system firms having coal could continue and a considerable portion of those now shut down would have been able to go on.

Dr. Garfield today personally took charge of the problem of coaling the ships at tidewater and radical steps are already under way, it was stated. A group of men has been selected to put into effect steps to be announced later.

Must Relieve Shipping
The shipping situation must be relieved first and "at all costs," the fuel administration today declared.

"Ships have been held in port for sixty days because of inability to fill their bunkers. Coal is lying all along the Atlantic seaboard from Mobile to Boston, back of the ports, unable to get through the wall of congested freight at the terminals."

Meantime many additional war industries not on the last exemption list were freed from operation of the order today. The Ordnance branch of the department had not completed its set of factories needing exemption up to noon today, but it was said to be extensive.

CONGRESS TO GUARD CAREFULLY ITS POWER

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—Congress intends to be careful of shearing itself of power, even to giving it to the president, it is announced. Leaders declared today that this is a direct result of the Garfield order, to which Congress has now become resigned except that some effort may be made to modify the Monday closing rule.

STANDARD OIL'S ALL DELIVERY BY WATER

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 18.—Although cancellation of all contracts for the delivery of oil by water was announced by the Standard Oil Company today, as a result of government control of tank steamers, Vice-President W. S. Waller of the Standard Oil of California, assured customers that deliveries would continue as long as possible and he anticipated little derangement.

At the same time the General Petroleum Company notified customers in the Northwest that cancellation may be necessary at any time. Consumers in British Columbia, Honolulu, Panama, Oregon and Washington are chiefly affected.

U. S. WAR BILLS MORE THAN CENTURY'S COST

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—Appropriations by congress during the last and present sessions will approximate $35,000,000,000 or $9,000,000,000 more than the $26,000,000,000 appropriated by congress from George Washington's administration up to March 1917, covering all expenses of the government including the costs of the Civil, Mexican, Spanish American Wars and the War of 1812.

In other words these two congresses will have appropriated $9,000,000,000 more than was appropriated in the whole 128 years of the nation's history up to the time of America's entrance into the world war.

DISPATCHES REPORT UNREST AMONG ARMY, PEOPLE IN AUSTRIA

SURICH, Jan. 18.—A grave unrest is brewing throughout Austria-Hungary. Closely censored dispatches today indicated serious bread strikes, tie-ups at munitions factories, civil clashes between the police and crowds at numerous Austro-Hungarian cities.

Arch Duke Eugene, the Vienna dispatch said, has been relieved of his command for military reasons. Serious and violent demonstrations are common, it is reported.

BILLION DOLLARS CAPITAL IDLE IN CHICAGO

Many Concerns Arrange to Pay Employees All or Part Time Wages

CHICAGO, Jan. 18.—A billion dollars worth of capital was loafing in Chicago today, made idle by Fuel Administrator Garfield's coal conservation order.

About half a million workers, with a combined daily wage of a million dollars, will have little to do for the next five days but watch their living expenses mount, it was estimated. Seventy-five per cent of these are industrial employees.

Many concerns will pay their workable regular or part wages during the layoff.

Production at the rate of a billion and a half dollars a year has been stopped. Chicago is the first city in the United States in the amount of money invested in manufacturing industries, and the second in production.

Agree to Measure
Chicago business men and commercial organizations carried their fight for a modification of the order up to its signing late yesterday by Dr. Garfield. When this was done, however, they resolved to "be good soldiers" and carry out its provisions in every detail.

The whole middle west took the same attitude.

Plans were under way today to employ thousands of temporarily idle workmen in clearing away the record snowfall in this section still blocking many railroad switches, mines and manufacturing plants.

State Fuel Administrator Williams issued a list of general rules, interpreting the Garfield order in its application to Illinois. His ruling that all industries, other than those whose principal business is the production of food or fuel or their distribution, are affected, was accepted as practical exemption for the big packing plants at the Union Stock Yards. Many of the packers anticipated the order yesterday, however, by voluntarily closing all departments not engaged in production of perishable articles.

An Individual Matter

The matter of wages being paid to idle employees will be determined by the various industries individually. The state food administration urged the formation of welfare clubs to aid employees, and suggested advancement of wages to persons receiving less than $3 a day, but it was indicated early today that the majority of employers will be unable to pay workers who are laid off.

The same situation that prevailed in Chicago was general throughout the middle west. In Milwaukee, nearly a quarter of a billion dollars in invested capital was idle; in Detroit, nearly $300,000,000.

DISSATISFACTION SPREADS AMONG KAISER'S SOLDIERS ON ITALIAN, RUSS FRONTS

BY JOSEPH SHAPLEN
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
PETROGRAD, Jan. 18.—Whole companies of Austrian troops have been ordered shot for their sympathy with Russian Socialist views, according to reports reaching here today.

According to further reports here, many units of Austrian forces on the Italian front have been ordered executed for their refusal to obey their officers.

Disaffection against their militarist masters is spreading among German troops also.

The German government is making strenuous efforts to stop the spread of Russian propaganda and of sympathy with Russian beliefs.

Foreign Minister Trotsky himself telegraphed from Brest Litovsk today that the German government was "deliberately garbling reports of the peace negotiations."

Presumably this is in line with the Teutonic effort to mislead public opinion in the central powers. News from the camp of the 25,000 German troops who deserted their commands and accepted Russian principles of socialism today asserted that the force was well armed and organized. The men live by foraging and by contributions from sympathetic peasants.

A similar situation of disaffection among the men is reported along the whole of the Austro-Italian front, according to messages received here.

Garfield's Explanation Of Coal Limiting Order

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—Dr. Garfield last night issued the following statement explaining the order closing industries for five days:

"The most urgent thing to be done is to send to the American forces abroad and to the allies the food and war supplies which they vitally need. War munitions, food, manufactured articles of every description lie at our Atlantic ports in tens of thousands of tons, while literally hundreds of ships waiting to load with war goods for our men and the allies cannot take the seas because bunkers are empty of coal. The coal to send them on their way is waiting behind a congested freight that has jammed all terminals in years."

"The wheels were choked and stopped; zero weather has snow-bound trains; terminals congested, harbors with shipping frozen in rivers and canals impassable; it was useless to continue manufacture and pile confusion on top of confusion."

"A clear line from the manufacturing establishment to the seaport and beyond—that was the imperative need. It was like soldiers marching to the front. The men of the foremost rank must have room to move."

"More than a shock was needed to make a way through that congestion at the terminals and on the docks so that the aid so vitally needed by the allies could get through."

"The incidental effect of this transportation situation on coal production has been disastrous. There is and always has been plenty of fuel, but it cannot be moved to those places where it is so badly needed while railroad lines and terminals are choked."

Mines Lying Idle

"Throughout the coal fields scores, even hundreds, of mines are lying idle because of railroad inability to supply the cars to carry away their products. Coal mines cannot operate without cars. Cars cannot be supplied while the railroads are crippled by the present freight congestion, which keeps idle cars lying useless in the freight yards. In the past week the production of coal has been disastrously reduced. Reports in some cases have shown 90 per cent of the mines in certain fields closed completely for lack of cars."

"This is war. Whatever the cost we must pay it, so that in the face of the enemy there can never be the reproach that we held back from doing our full share. Those ships laden with our supplies and our food for men and food for guns must have coal and put to sea!"

"Added to this has been a difficulty

PETROGRAD TODAY IS UNDER MARTIAL LAW, BOLSHEVIKI COMMAND

PETROGRAD, Jan. 18.—Petrograd was declared under martial law today by the bolshevik safety commission.

"All attempts at a revolt are to be vigorously suppressed," the decree declared.

Anarchy seems to be spreading. Railroad stations have been raided, trains plundered and transportation is halted. All sorts of excesses have been resorted to. Dissatisfaction against the militarist masters is likewise spreading to the German troops.

The German government is making strenuous efforts to stop the spread of Russian propaganda to the German soldiers.

Flat denial was made today by Smolny institute, bolshevik headquarters, that the bolsheviks intended the arrest of the Rumanian king.

Gonzales, Monterey county, is receiving advice on bean planting from an expert of the University of California.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 18.—A stick of dynamite, addressed to Gov. Wm. D. Stephens, at Sacramento, has been found in the mail here by postal clerks, it was announced today by Postmaster Charles W. Fay. From the open manner in which it was mailed, Fay does not believe the sender seriously expected the dynamite to reach the governor.

Because of the peculiar shape of the package, postal clerks did not put the package through the canceling machine. The dynamite was wrapped in a long, thin package which still carried the stamp of a powder company. San Francisco police and federal agents are investigating in an effort to learn the identity of the sender.

This is the second attempt in six weeks to kill Governor Stephens. The first attempt was made when a bomb was exploded under the executive mansion at Sacramento. Shortly thereafter the governor received a threatening letter demanding that he pay $50,000 under penalty of death.

D. L. ANDERSON CO. EMPLOYEES BUY INTEREST IN BUSINESS

retary and treasurer. He came here from the East.

The men who today are the head of the enterprise are well known to the public of Santa Ana. D. L. Anderson has been in the grocery business here for the past twenty-five years, and his business has expanded in proportion to the development of the city.

W. R. Currie has been a clerk in the store for the past eleven years, coming here from Springfield, Ohio, where he was engaged in the wholesale grocery business.

Marshall has been identified with the store for some four years.

The fact that the two employees have taken over the interests of Howell and Martin, is evidence that the concern is a going one.

Miss Zoe Vanderlip, who is an experienced clerk in china and silverware departments, will remain with the firm.

Martin and Howell are interested in a 200 acre tract at Porterville and they have left the business field to develop the tract. Martin's health has not been of the best and this also had its bearing on his determination to sever connection with this strong institution.

The acreage will be planted to olives and oranges, with subdivision a later development. Setting of trees is now in progress. A fine pumping plant has been installed on the property and an abundance of water is available. Pipe lines will be run through the orchard property and the best improvements of this character made. As a method for making the tract more or less supporting while the trees are maturing beans will be planted between the tree rows each year. Tepary and pink beans will be grown.

Reorganization of the company made necessary by the changes was effected last night. D. L. Anderson will continue as president, Currie succeeds Martin as vice president, and Marshall succeeds Howell as secretary and treasurer.

The firm conducts a grocery and crockery business, having one of the largest enterprises of its character in Orange county. Martin has been at the head of the crockery business, and his father establishing it in its present location about three years ago. Later D. L. Anderson company was formed, taking over the two departments. In the three years Martin has been there this branch of the business has made big developments. The stock of china, and silverware has been doubled in that period.

WOULD WELCOME ORGANIZATION FOR CARE OLD CEMETERY

Fairhaven Cemetery Association Under No Moral or Legal Obligation

"We would be glad to see an organization of owners of lots in the old cemetery and would be only too pleased to co-operate with them in any way that we can," declared Oliver Halsell, treasurer of the Fairhaven Cemetery Association, this morning, in referring to the article in the Register last night with reference to such a project.

"We deplore the condition the old cemetery is in. It is not our fault. We are not under moral or legal obligation to maintain it, and the policy we have practiced in the past of taking care of lots at a stipulated price has been more as an accommodation to the owners than as a money-making proposition for us. Last year we sustained a loss of about $295 in the care of the property—that being the difference between what we received for the care of lots and what the work actually cost us.

"In years past, when lots were selling in the old allotment, it was possible to maintain the cemetery in fairly good shape at $10 or $12 per lot, because the company operating at that time received some revenue from the sale of lots. Since the opening of the perpetual care cemetery by the Fairhaven Cemetery Association, there has been little or no demand for lots in the old section.

"We have a two-pump plant water system, which cost us in the neighborhood of $6000. This we will sell to any association organized for the purpose of taking care of the old section and will allow depreciation in determining its present value, or such an organization can develop a new water system.

"During the summer season we use between 120,000 and 150,000 gallons of water daily, three-fifths of which is used in the old part, where we operate from 40 to 45 sprinklers daily.

"The public seems to have the impression that the Fairhaven Cemetery Association owns and is responsible for the old section. This is not true. We have no responsibility there. What we have been doing we have done as an accommodation to lot owners, and for the purpose of keeping property adjoining ours in as fair condition as possible under the support we have been receiving.

"When we took control of the pumping plant, it was a wreck. We had to throw out the old engine, abandon the well and sink a new one. We installed two electric pumps, one on the new well and one on the old, the latter being held in reserve in case of damage to the new well and equipment.

"However, those who are suggesting the promotion of the organization, will find themselves tackling a big job if they ever get to the point of attempting it. Our company has tried every plan conceivable to develop a plan that would result in better care of the lots. It would require the consent of at least the majority of the lot owners to institute the proposed association. It is impossible to reach 25 per cent of them, because there are 50 per cent who seem to have no interest whatever in the condition of their lots, and who do not visit the cemetery more than once a year."

Our company has tried every plan conceivable to develop a plan that would result in better care of the lots. It would require the consent of at least the majority of the lot owners to institute the proposed association. It is impossible to reach 25 per cent of them, because there are 50 per cent who seem to have no interest whatever in the condition of their lots, and who do not visit the cemetery more than once a year."

"We have a two-pump plant water system, which cost us in the neighborhood of $6000. This we will sell to any association organized for the purpose of taking care of the old section and will allow depreciation in determining its present value, or such an organization can develop a new water system.

"During the summer season we use between 120,000 and 150,000 gallons of water daily, three-fifths of which is used in the old part, where we operate from 40 to 45 sprinklers daily.

"The public seems to have the impression that the Fairhaven Cemetery Association owns and is responsible for the old section. This is not true. We have no responsibility there. What we have been doing we have done as an accommodation to lot owners, and for the purpose of keeping property adjoining ours in as fair condition as possible under the support we have been receiving.

"When we took control of the pumping plant, it was a wreck. We had to throw out the old engine, abandon the well and sink a new one. We installed two electric pumps, one on the new well and one on the old, the latter being held in reserve in case of damage to the new well and equipment.

"However, those who are suggesting the promotion of the organization, will find themselves tackling a big job if they ever get to the point of attempting it. QUICK RELEASE FREIGHT CARS GOVERNMENT REQUEST

Santa Ana Shippers Urged to Start Unloading Immediately Shipment Arrives

Speed in unloading and releasing freight cars in all railroad yards is the one big thing this week, the campaign having been requested by Director General McAdoo. The week of January 14-21 is designated as the week for the special campaign, and the result of the education is expected to be of lasting benefit to the carriers.

Merchants anticipating the receipt of carload shipments are requested to make preparations for unloading the car the minute it arrives, in order that it might be kept rolling.

The lines are called upon to make daily reports of the number of unloaded cars at each station, the daily reporting period covering the week's campaign.

While Santa Ana merchants have been in the habit of releasing cars within the forty-eight hours permitted before demurrage charges commence, it is possible for them to arrange to make the unloading time one day shorter.

The result of the campaign will determine whether or not the government will invoke an extra penalty for failure to release cars within the period of the forty-eight hours. It has been proposed to increase the demurrage charges $1 for each day a car is held beyond the free time. The charge is now $3 per day and if the extra penalty is put on it will mean that $4 will be charged the second day, $5 the third day and so on.

Shippers by co-operating with the government in its efforts to make all freight cars do the greatest service possible, can materially relieve the shortage situation now obtaining on all lines.

Returns to Berkeley
Prof. Fred Solomon, of Berkeley, who was supposed to be on his way to France, was told at New York that he was liable to be conscripted into the French and Italian army as soon as he landed, on account of his father being a native of Italy, though he himself was a native-born American. He at once telegraphed for his old position as instructor in French at Berkeley and returned, though deeply disappointed not to be able to do Y. M. C. A. work in the French army, as he had planned.

GIRLS! HAVE A MASS OF BEAUTIFUL HAIR, SOFT, GLOSSY, WAVY

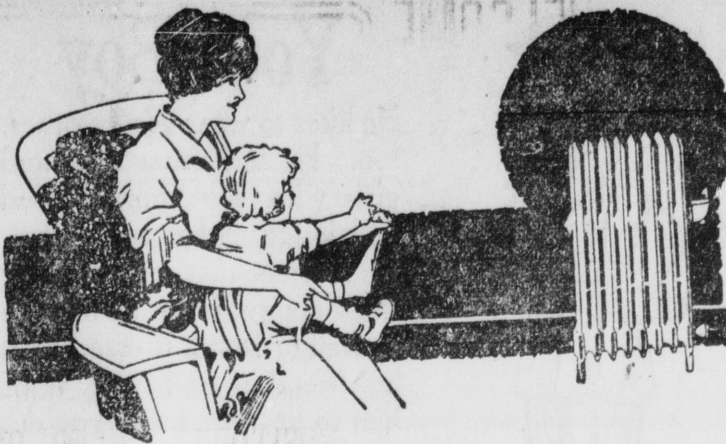

25-cent Bottle Destroys Dandruff and Doubles Beauty of Your Hair

Within ten minutes after an application of Danderine you can find a single trace of dandruff or falling hair and your scalp will not itch, but what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use, when you see new hair, fine and downy at first—yes, but really new hair—growing all over the scalp.

A little Danderine immediately doubles the beauty of your hair. No difference how dull, faded, brittle and scraggy, just moisten a cloth with Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. The effect is amazing—your hair will be light, fluffy and wavy, and have an appearance of abundance; an incomparable lustre, softness and luxuriance.

Get a small bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter, for a few cents, and prove that your hair is as prettily and as soft as any—that it has been neglected or injured by careless treatment—that's all—you surely can have beautiful hair and lots of it if you will just try a little Danderine.

"My Country 'Tis of Thee, Sweet Land of Liberty."

OUR GERMAN FRIENDS AND NEIGHBORS

"This war into which we have been forced," says George Creel, chairman of the National Committee on Public Information, in his appeal to the press for co-operation, "is not a war of the Administration, nor even of the Army and Navy, but it is the war of the hundred millions of people who live under our free institutions. Our national life cannot be secured, our national aims assured of success, until this war becomes a part of the consciousness of every man, woman and child in America."

Newspapers are especially urged to extend their co-operative service into the moral as well as the financial realm, so as to counteract the baleful influence of conscientious objectors, pro-Germans, pacifists and those who are even worse than any of these.

In view of the very large number of people of German blood in Orange County, it has seemed to the Register and to those whom it has consulted that the special page which appears in this issue under the general heading, "American and German Ideas and Ideals" is of especial value and importance. Mr. Kahn's address and Mr. Walling's article, taken together, are comprehensive and illuminating to the highest degree. They meet the requirements of every possible mental and spiritual attitude on the part of our people of German blood. They will help the sincerely undecided to reach a decision—the RIGHT decision. From others, fundamentally loyal but negligibly patriotic, they will strike off the fetters of an illusory love for a "Fatherland" that is only a dream-land. To the young German-American whose patriotism is cold and dark and dumb in the presence of his tradition-bound parents, they are torch and sword with which to light and cut his way to freedom. But above all, the inspired utterances of President Wilson and Mr. Kahn, breathing as they do the highest and holiest expression of world democracy and human brotherhood, will dissipate the clouds of suspicion and misunderstanding by which many of the thousands of loyal, patriotic Americans of German blood, who are our neighbors and fellow-citizens here in Orange County, rightly or wrongly, feel themselves to be so unjustly enshrouded.

SUFFRAGE

The English House of Lords has passed the suffrage bill on the second reading. While the bill must pass a third time in order to become a law, this is regarded as a mere formality. Some little time may elapse before the law comes through in its final form, enfranchising 6,000,000 women, but it is definitely on its way.

In the United States, the Susan B. Anthony amendment has passed the House. It passed by the skin of its teeth, with not one vote to spare, but as it required a two-thirds vote for passage, the indication is that the country is in favor of it. It still has to pass the Senate, which, representing states instead of local population groups, may still oppose a measure of this kind in deference to state rights. Some doubt is expressed as to its getting a two-thirds vote in the upper house at present. But even the Senate will probably yield before long.

Suffrage is one of these "Eventuals," why not now? propositions. It is marching on rather rapidly now, state by state; and with unlimited time given by this amendment for the ratification of it by the separate states, there may be no forced haste about the movement. At any rate, opponents of federal action are rapidly being reconciled to it.

Democratic ideas permeate the public conscience slowly, but there is no stopping them. The history of the world is the history of the growth of democracy. The extension of the suffrage is but one bit of democratic progress. As deliberate as the tides, as mighty and as irresistible, it sweeps onward.

AMERICAN MINERS

The Ohio miners' convention anticipated the "loyalty week" urged by the American Alliance for Labor and Democracy. It didn't wait for Lincoln's birthday to show its American-ism. It adopted unanimously an amendment said to be unprecedented in the history of American unionism, providing that hereafter any alien who has lived in the United States three years and has not become a citizen, or signified his intent to do so by taking out his first naturalization papers, shall be deprived of membership in the United Mine Workers of Ohio. The miners declare that they intend to apply the rule strictly, and rid themselves of all members whose conduct and attitude are not in thorough accord with the spirit of the nation.

It is to be hoped that in inaugurating the new system the unions will not expel alien members merely on a technicality, without first giving them a chance to declare their loyal intentions and take the first step toward citizenship. There may be many whose hearts are right, but who have merely neglected the matter through carelessness. A short period of grace might well be allowed.

With this understanding, the rule is one that might properly be adopted by labor unions of all kinds. Nothing would do more to demonstrate the genuine patriotism of American organized labor, and nothing would bring home the lesson more effectively to the alien workmen who need it.

CHARGE GERMAN LLOYD AGENT RECEIVED BIG CHECK FROM TEUTONS

Sammies Keep Steadily at Work Despite Torrential Downpour of Rain

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 18.—Charges by U. S. Attorney Preston that Robert Cappelletti, San Francisco agent for the North German Lloyd Steamship Company, received $250,000 from the German government for propaganda work at the outbreak of the war and testimony of former Honorary Turkish Consul Maurice Hall regarding an alleged secret rendezvous maintained by Cappelletti and Lieut. Von Brincken, have been added to the story of the Hindu revolt plot. Testimony covering alleged overt acts of various defendants continued at today's session.

Preston charged that it was Cappelletti's propaganda fund which financed the voyages of the mystery ships Maverick and Annie Larsen which were laden with arms for the Hindu revolutionists. The secret rendezvous, Hall said, was a room in the Lincoln building here, where, the government charges Cappelletti and von Brincken planned the trips of the Maverick and Annie Larsen.

LARGE DAMAGE DONE IN SOUTH BY STORM

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—Damage of "from 40 to 50 per cent" in the winter oats crop, with "much damage" to truck garden crops throughout the south as a result of the recent three successive cold waves was reported by the agricultural department today.

The sugar cane belt also was affected, it was stated.

HELPFUL HINTS

Stretching the Meat
If you are saving meat these days by eliminating some of the all-meat dishes here are a few dishes in which a combination with potatoes stretches the meat flavor and makes an appetizing member of the menu family.

Potato pie—To 1 qt. of hot boiled potatoes add enough hot milk to moisten. Season with butter and salt. Mash in kettle in which the potatoes are boiled and beat with a fork until stiff. Stir in half a cup of minced ham. Have four hard boiled eggs ready, with half a cup of stock or gravy. Arrange the potatoes and sliced eggs in dish in alternate layers with potatoes forming the top and bottom layers. Moisten with the gravy. Brush over the top with milk or egg and brown in hot oven. This dish can be arranged in three layers with the middle layer some kind of meat hash bound together with egg or thickened gravy.

Potato turnovers—Boil and put through the ricer enough potatoes to measure a pint. Add a well-beaten egg, a tablespoon of flour and season with salt. Turn on floured board, roll out and cut in circles the size of a saucer. Place on each a large spoonful of fry hash seasoned with onions and parsley chopped fine. This hash should be dried or bound together with thickening. Double over and pinch together like a turnover, place on a greased baking sheet and brown in a hot oven. Serve with a thickened sauce made from the gravy in which the meat was cooked or with a tomato sauce.

Family potatoes—Use six cold or freshly boiled potatoes. Cut into quarters and put in saucepan with a pint of gravy or soup stock. Add a chopped onion, salt and a little red pepper. Simmer on back of stove half an hour before serving.

Potato roll—Heat a pint of mashed potatoes and half a cup of milk in a saucepan. Add a tablespoon of chopped parsley, salt and a little red pepper, or paprika. Stir in four well-beaten eggs and mix thoroughly. Remove from fire and beat until light. Heat a tablespoon of fat in frying pan and spread the potato mixture evenly over the pan. Cook until it is golden brown. Roll like an omelet and serve smoking hot.

Red pepper, or paprika, is preferable to black pepper in these potato dishes.

 And he said—The doctors told him—He was full of tubes—

And glands—And ducts—And pockets—Fibrous tissue—

And ligaments—And all kinds of organs—And other things—

 And he said—He could understand—The organs being there—

For all his family—Had a musical turn—

 And he said he asked them—Did they find a whistle—

Because he had—Swallowed one—When he was—A little shaver—

 And they said—They hadn't found it—And it seemed—

To worry Riley—Because he said—He cared more—For the whistle—

—Than the other things—They had found—

 And Riley said—If he shouldn't—Live through it—He wanted me—

To look after his burial—And have the lodge band—

—At the funeral—

 And he said—To put on his tombstone—That he died—

Full of faith—And glory—And lots of—Other things—The doctors—

—Hadden't removed—

 And I went away—From the hospital—Feeling sure—

He would pull through—

 And today—He sent me word—There was a wheezing—

In his left lung—And he thought—He had found the whistle—

 And he believed—When he got—Strong enough—He would have them—

Remove the whistle—And some tubes—And things—By Bud.

The Political Periscope

Periscoping around in politics these days is beginning to bring some things to light that are interesting. No sooner had the year 1918 opened its eyes than things began to happen in county politics. A long time ago some thoughtful newspaper with an aptitude for figures of speech described the seething surf situation as "the political pot is boiling," and that figure of speech has stuck. It is one with which the American people are quite familiar. Teddy's "hat in the ring," and "big stick" are not more familiar political expressions than is the boiling of the political pot.

The local pot has not begun to boil, but, believe me, mates, it is beginning to steam. Here and there upon the surface is a bubble.

They are taking it for granted that Jim Metzgar is going to run for county clerk. It was eight years ago that Jim entered the arena, and ran a couple of heats for county treasurer, and from time to time there have been rumors floating about to the effect that he still had his eye upon the office that is still occupied by the grizzled Trabucan, who is rightly credited as being some goer when it comes to running for office. Until a couple of months ago it was not known for sure whether or not this same grizzled Trabucan would again be in the field.

"I am going to run," said Joplin in an off-hand sort of way one day in the gentle fall, "and if the truth were known and told, I am running right now."

Which settled one point. And when Joplin just says he is running, he is off to a good start, and anyone who knows anything about the iron-bound strength of the old pioneer knows that it is something to be taken into consideration.

In our last Periscope production we essayed to say that C. D. Lester, ex-county official and ex-city official, was going to run against Joplin. At that time Lester had told a number of people that he was going to run, and that he was soon going to make an announcement. The announcement is made.

But to get back to Jim Metzgar. A few days ago came word that Jim had decided to run for county clerk. At the time Jim had not really reached a decision in his own mind. He was turning the situation over, rolling it over, poking it in the ribs and otherwise sizing it up.

When word got out that Metzgar was thinking of changing his publicity job for a political job, the people being willing, it rather rushed him toward a decision.

"Are you going to run again?" asked Jim Metzgar of Nels Edwards, over the telephone.

"I certainly am," was the immediate response.

Which settled another point. Jim has been talking things over since then, and he has not yet made a public announcement of his intentions. Nevertheless, a lot of those who say they have it straight say that within the next week or two Jim will be definitely in the race.

The Periscope has picked up the declaration of Joe Burke. Joe declares outright and with determination aforethought that he is not going to run for assemblyman again. He feels that he has had his day at Sacramento, and it is time for him to stay by his legal reins and let somebody else take his place on the legislative seat. Nobody who stops and figures the thing out carefully is going to quarrel with Joe over the wisdom of his decision and in the acceptance of the course he has laid out for himself, but that is not going to keep a lot of people from regretting that he has found it best to reach his decision. It was generally conceded that he would be re-elected.

INSTANT POSTUM

But the stuff's off. With Joe out of it, you can bet a couple of pennies as much more as you like that there is going to be some fun in the assembly race before the year is out. It is a race that brings about it an unusual lot of factors.

The anti-physical training people have been passing out the word all over the state to get out legislative candidates who will favor their cause. The wet and dry fight is always with us, and the position of a candidate for assemblyman upon that question is one thing that the voters of Orange County want to know, and if a candidate himself won't say where he stands somebody else has got to say it for him—or he won't do.

For some time occasional remarks have been dropped to the effect that George Peters was likely to run for a county office again. He quit the recordership some four years ago for the position he now holds in a bank. It seems that a few months ago he attended a banquet of the Associated Chambers of Commerce, and when someone who has not been very regularly in attendance at these affairs suddenly shows up, suspicion is aroused. Someone begins to think he is stirring around a bit, getting acquainted, seeing the people, etc.

"There is absolutely nothing to it," declared George Peters this week. "If I had wanted a county job I would have kept the one I had. I haven't thought of running for county treasurer or any other county job, and I am not going to run."

Which settled still another point.

Now there is the job of justice of the peace of Santa Ana township. Some months ago it was said that Deputy Sheriff J. M. Gunnett kind of had that place of profit and power in mind, but there has been nothing said about those aspirations lately. Judge J. Belshazzar himself has said in decided terms that he is running again and yet. That much is certain. There is some talk that Ben Brown is talking of entering the judgeship race. However, that much is uncertain.

They say that the brown spot splid through the Periscope keeps moving around. They say that Charles D. Brown, who not long since with the condemnation suit brought against him by the Pacific Electric, has been quietly and insistently letting it be known that he is a candidate for coroner and public administrator. He was the first of the new crop of candidates.

Things have been rather quiet of late in the supervisory situations. Over around Orange it seems to be fairly well settled that Willard Smith of Villa Park is going to run for supervisor against Fred Struck, and over around Tustin it is accepted as a fact that Howard Wassum is out against Jasper Leck, who has shown himself to be some go-getter when it comes to campaigning. Over at Tustin, too, there has been some talk that Al Cotant might run. A day or two ago Cotant admitted that a few people had spoken to him about it, but he hadn't given the matter any thought.

"Yes, I am going to run," said Jasper Leck. "I am a candidate for reelection."

Which settled another point. With Jasper Leck announcing himself, he is clearing the atmosphere considerably. His friends are for him strong, as they always are, and they say that he has been giving splendid service, getting along on a small salary, just about enough to pay gasoline and wear on an automobile, and since the job has been raised to pay $125 a month they think Jasper is entitled to a term at that figure. He is out for the place, and, as has been suggested before, he is a go-getter on election day.

Don't forget Salisbury Sunday and Monday at Princess Theatre.

To Keep the Record Straight
The Daily Register, Santa Ana, California:

To the Editor: In a report of the revival meetings being held in your city, contained in your issue of the 16th instant, you quote Evangelist Biederwolf as saying that a number of the members of the school board of Long Beach are Christian Scientists, and that The Christian Science Monitor is used as a basis of teaching in the high school in Long Beach. What are the facts?

The board of education of Long Beach is composed of five members. My information is to the effect that two are licensed physicians, one of these a member of the Christian church, and the other of the Methodist church; the third member belongs to the Episcopal church; the fourth to the Congregational church; and the fifth to the Methodist church. The worldly-wise man in the street would not here see much in the way of thumbs-up for Christian Science, and might remind the evangelist of the words of an old English poet:

"Lest men suspect your tale untrue,
Keep probability in view."

If The Christian Science Monitor is used in the Long Beach high school, it is properly used there, as in many other places, solely to teach journalism and current history, and for the reason given by Mr. Biederwolf, who "declared that The Christian Science Monitor was one of the best daily newspapers he knew of."

Journalists, educators and public men generally value The Christian Science Monitor for its high standards; for its absolutely accurate and truthful news, free from all sensationalism. The Monitor is daily printing a current history of world-wide events, that, as its value is being known, is warranting its use in colleges, etc. The international news contained in its columns is good news—news that, as its value is being known, is warranting its use in colleges, etc. The international news contained in its columns is good news—news that, as its value is being known, is warranting its use in colleges, etc. The international news contained in its columns is good news—news that, as its value is being known, is warranting its use in colleges, etc.

RELIEF CORPS MEETING

New Officers Present Yesterday to Conduct Interesting Session, Special Tea

The regular meeting of the Woman's Relief Corps was held in G. A. R. hall yesterday afternoon. There was a good attendance to greet the new officers, who, with one exception, were present to enter upon the discharge of the duties of their respective offices. Mrs. Viola Phipps presided.

The relief committee reported that forty-seven visits had been made to sick members and comrades of the post.

Mrs. Maurice Phillips, chairman of the committee of Red Cross work, reported that the ladies of the corps committee had met regularly every Tuesday at the armory since last June and so faithfully had they worked that they were called the "Banner Class" of Red Cross workers. The chairman stated that there was great need at present for a supply of warm garments for our soldiers and hoped the ladies would turn out in greater numbers every Tuesday afternoon to help supply this need. Mrs. Phillips was unanimously re-elected chairman of the Red Cross work.

The treasurer, Mrs. Alice Yount, reported two hundred and thirty members in good standing, and favorable condition of finances. The corps failed to secure the $500 for the ambulance, but it did raise $292, which amount was turned over to the Salvation Army, which secured the balance necessary to pay for the ambulance which will bear the name of Santa Ana, to France as a reminder to our boys "over there" that the folks at home remember their needs and are trying to supply them.

It was decided to hold an extra tea on Friday afternoon, January 25th, at G. A. R. hall for the purpose of raising a much-needed special relief fund.

Monroe Salisbury, the greatest actor on the screen, will be at the Princess Theatre Sunday and Monday in "The Desire of the Moth."

"WHAT SEEST THOU IN THE NEW DAWN?"

O, still I see the good, and with clearer eyes; and, lo, it doth appear that, in the light of the New Dawn, greater and always greater grows the good and nearer and always nearer. For now, with the rising sun, a company of angels in new flight, lift their wings and come upon the day, and one is the bright Angel of Freedom, and one that strong Angel of Justice, and one is the undaunted Angel of Peace, and one the Angel of Hope Everlasting.

O, ye who doubt! In the visible present lives the invisible future and the hour that is, brings the hour that shall be. As with separate souls, so with peoples—the New Year, though it holds inheritance of shame and loss, holds also inheritance of striving, and accomplishment, and divine aspirations, [L.] the Light is climbing not only of a New Year, but of a New Era for the awakening world!

A company of friends, hearing that Mrs. William Chrissman had a quilt in frames, planned a merry surprise for her. The ladies descended upon the Chrissman home in the morning and received a hearty welcome from the hostess.

The quilt was quickly finished to the delight of Mrs. Chrissman and at noon a delectable lunch, provided by the uninvited guests, and added to with hot coffee and other appetizing dishes by the hostess, was thoroughly enjoyed by the workers.

The afternoon passed all too quickly and the "end of the perfect day" came when farewells were spoken.

LINCOLN P. T. A.

Women Express Hope That
Segregation of Mexicans
May Be Secured

The first meeting for the new year of the Lincoln School Parent-Teacher Association was held yesterday afternoon in the kindergarten room with a good attendance. After a song by the boys of the fifth grade, the fifth grade girls in a clear and forceful way presented the subject of Thrift Stamps, explaining just the manner in which the stamps are obtained, the number that must be bought before they can be exchanged for a War Savings Certificate Stamp, the interest they bear, and the part that the money thus raised will play in helping the U. S. government to win the war.

Mrs. A. J. Crookshank, formerly a president of Lincoln P. T. A., whose removal to Tustin was a matter of sincere regret among both teachers and parents, was given a warm welcome when she appeared yesterday afternoon to present the subject of the French orphans. Mrs. Crookshank described graphically the conditions prevailing in France that make immediate help imperative, and told the manner in which the orphaned children may be "adopted" by individuals or organizations, the adoption process consisting in furnishing the $36 which will feed one child for one year. Ten cents a day will furnish food to keep one of these little ones alive, and thousands of them are being provided for by Americans.

As is often the case at Lincoln school, where there are about seventy Mexican and Spanish children enrolled, the subject of a school or at least a teacher, for these foreign children was discussed. Mrs. Beals, at the request of the president, Mrs. Robertson, presented the subject, and expressed the sincere hope that Santa Ana may sometime have an industrial school for the Mexican children. "In the nature of things, considering their station in life and their limitations, they cannot all become teachers or preachers," said Mrs. Beals, "and therefore it would seem a fitting thing to provide an industrial school to prepare them for an industrial career, so that they may become intelligent and useful Americans." The subject of a home teacher for Mexican mothers was also discussed.

Mrs. Maxwell gave a very interesting report of the County P. T. A. and Mothers' Congress convention held at Orange last Saturday.

Give it in Time
Every mother knows that coughs and colds, neglected, may lead to the most dreaded diseases. Croup, bronchitis, pneumonia and consumption often have their beginning in a slight cold.
The wise mother gives
Foley's Honey and Tar

Those who furnished the charming program were at their best and the program was all too brief for the interested listeners. Mrs. Holmes Bishop beautifully rendered vocal numbers, accompanied in her usual finished manner by Mrs. Arnold Peak, who followed with a well-rendered instrumental selection.

The reader of the afternoon was an accomplished one, Miss Araminta Schoch, who read and read again and then again until she read a dozen charming selections. Mrs. Fred Medbury, a recent arrival in the city, pleased with vocal solos.

Mrs. William E. Otis always has something profitable to say about the Red Cross work and Mrs. R. H. Shafer and Mrs. J. N. Bartholomew told of the proposed establishment of the Red Cross shop, along the lines of the very successful one being conducted in Los Angeles.

Talented Italian to Speak
Madam A. C. Angelini, recently from Italy, will lecture in the First Presbyterian church at 3 o'clock sharp, Wednesday, January 23d. All women of Santa Ana are urged to hear this message of war service work among the Italian troops from one direct from their encampments.

Madam Angelini is of the Waldensian tribe, of which people there are several families in Santa Ana. These Waldensians have done more for the religious uplift of the Italian boys than anyone else; the Y. M. C. A. have been instrumental in supplying the boys with testaments for the small price of 5 cents a copy, and these tiny books have already caused a new standard of living among the soldiers which is very noticeable. This is only one of the many things Madam Angelini will tell you.

Come and learn of this good work.

ROMERO IN COURT FOR SECOND TIME IN WEEK

"Give me a year's probation, judge; maybe I can break myself of the liquor habit."

This appeal was made to City Recorder Heathman yesterday by Clifford Romero, who appeared before him for the second time this week for intoxication.

He was in court on Tuesday, when a fine of $10 was imposed. He was permitted by the court to have time in which to go to a friend to secure the money.

He got the money all right, but instead of paying his fine he went to Anaheim and loaded up with Dago Red.

Heathman sent him to jail yesterday for ten days, with the warning that if he appeared in his court again he would be taken to the superior court, with possibility of commitment to Patton for a time.

MAKING PREPARATIONS FOR INVESTIGATION

Attorney Clyde Bishop and beet growers identified with the Associated Beet Growers of Southern California are making every preparation for the investigation soon to be made here by a commission to be appointed by the food administration. That commission will consist of three instead of five men, as originally provided. That he would appoint only three men was announced by Judge Lamb yesterday in a telegram to Bishop.

There is no opposition to the change in the number. Lamb is expected to get busy and name the members at once.

PULMOTOR PURCHASED FOR EMERGENCY USE

FULLERTON, Jan. 18.—The city has purchased a lung motor, and if any of the firemen are overcome by smoke they can be speedily revived. Fumigators, too, will welcome this news, because every year there are several cases of them being overcome by gas.

There has been an urgent need for a lungmotor here for some time, and it may be the means of saving a life once in a while.

WOMAN LOSES IN WIT MATCHING WITH COPS OF TWO CITIES

Mrs. Jas. Strong of Orange Gives Officers Lively Chase Last Night

A business woman of Orange last night matched her wits against those of the combined police force of Orange and Santa Ana and the sheriff's office and came near carrying off the honors. She was apprehended just as she was about to board the 8:00 o'clock Pacific Electric car to Los Angeles last night. Night Officer Westermann of Orange and Night Officer Joe Ryan of this city made the arrest. The woman is Mrs. James Strong, and she and her husband are charged with obtaining money under false pretenses in the sale of a lease on the Orange Inn at Orange. Her husband was arrested in Los Angeles later. He was at the P. E. depot awaiting the return of his wife. Motorcop Carr accompanied the woman to Los Angeles on the 10:15 car and caused his arrest in the lunchroom at the P. E. station. They are in jail at Los Angeles. Mr. and Mrs. Strong have been operating the Inn since it was remodelled last summer. They rented it from A. K. Grafton, of Los Angeles, the owner.

A little over a week ago they sold out to Mrs. C. E. Mitchell, of Los Angeles, claiming that they had a lease on the property. Mrs. Mitchell paid them $250 for the supposed lease. When it was learned that they had no lease a warrant was issued in Los Angeles for their arrest. It was placed in the hands of Constable Woodberry for service. He telegraphed to Sheriff Jackson here to keep a lookout for the couple.

Yesterday afternoon Mrs. Strong returned to Orange and went to the Inn to get some of her effects. Mrs. Mitchell telephoned Sheriff Jackson at once. As the officers entered the front door of the Inn Mrs. Strong left the Inn by way of the back door. She made her way over to Santa Ana. Officers were stationed at various street corners, and City Marshal Jernigan detailed officers to take the 8 o'clock car and ride to the Fifth street crossing, so as to arrest the woman should she board it. Jernigan met the officers at Fifth street in his automobile.

Westermann and Ryan located the woman at the Park drug store, corner Fourth and Birch. Westermann arrested her. She broke away from him. Her escape was blocked by other officers. By this time Sheriff Jackson, who was watching at the corner of Main and Fourth, was informed of her arrest by Clyde Alling, and he took her to the county jail. She was then sent to Los Angeles in company with Officer Carr.

When Carr arrived at the station in Los Angeles he identified to plain clothes officers of Los Angeles. Mrs. Strong asked permission to step into the lunch room to get something to eat. He gave the plain clothes men the wink, and walked away.

Mrs. Strong had been in the lunch room but a few minutes, when her husband walked up to her, believing that they were unobserved by officers. The plain clothes men then took him into custody.

The couple are in debt to Clyde Alling about $175 for supplies, and it is alleged that they left Orange with many obligations unpaid.

LONDONERS SING AS HUNS ATTACK BY AIR

LONDON, Dec. 10 (by mail)—The ground floors of many office and apartment buildings are thrown open for public shelter during air raids and on raid night many of the shelter seekers console themselves by singing popular songs.

The other night in the United Press building there came floating up from below the appropriate strains of "The End of a Perfect Day."

PUBLIC SCHOOL CHILDREN ARE INVESTING $100 DAY

Sale of War Saving Stamps Showing Most Satisfactory Increase Daily

That the school children of the city are just getting into their stride in the saving of their nickels and investing them in war thrift stamps is evidenced by increasing sales every day. The average for the past three days has been close to $100 each day.

Miss Beth Phillips, secretary to Superintendent Cranston, who is in charge of the sales, reports that to date she has purchased $850 worth of stamps, and that she has received in cash from the various schools the sum of $703.47. The difference in the two cash items represents the value of the stamps outstanding—in the hands of principals of schools.

Sales yesterday totaled $112 and the day before they were $99. Members of the high school have been a little slow in availing themselves of the opportunity to invest their spare change. They have been doing better in the past few days.

All of the schools are showing an increase, attributed in a large measure to the better understanding by pupils and parents of the saving plan.

French classes in the high school have adopted five French orphans, and the members of these classes are placing their money in a fund in support of this worthy cause.

JAP PAYS FINE OVER MISCOUNT OF CELERY

Costs Him $25 After Two Cars of the Product Are Unloaded

Two carloads of celery were unloaded, the crates torn open and repacked, and the owner of the celery arrested and fined $25—in brief, this tells what happened to John Yoshida, Jap.

The celery had been ordered by the National Fruit Co., and Yoshida had the two cars almost loaded when along came Thomas Strain, Jr., representing the buyer. He took one look at a crate of celery, and straightway there was trouble.

It seems that the celery had been ordered with the stipulation that it should not run smaller than ten dozen bunches to the crate. Strain said

BREAKS A COLD IN JUST A FEW HOURS

"Pape's Cold Compound" Ends Grippe Misery—Don't Stay Stuffed-up!

You can end grippe and break up a severe cold either in head, chest, body or limbs, by taking a dose of "Pape's Cold Compound" every two hours until three doses are taken. It promptly opens clogged-up nostrils and air passages in the head, stops nasty discharge or nose running, relieves sick headache, dullness, feverishness, sore throat, sneezing, soreness and stiffness.

Don't stay stuffed-up! Quit blowing and snuffling! Ease your throbbing head—nothing else in the world gives such prompt relief as "Pape's Cold Compound," which costs only a few cents at any drug store. It acts without assistance, tastes nice, and causes no inconvenience. Be sure you get the genuine.—Adv.

that he found that a practice had been made of having the outside bunches made large, filling the center with small stuff, so that some of the crates ran eleven and a half dozen. When the little stuff arrives back East it is thrown out and marked up as shortage. It is said that last year these shortages cost the California Vegetable Union $3700.

Strain told Yoshida, the Japanese owner, that he would not accept the celery, and Yoshida was under the necessity of unloading and re-packing, throwing out the small stuff. In the meantime County Sealer George McPhee had been notified, and arrived. He saw that some of the crates had not been marked in accordance with law, and he swore to a complaint against Yoshida. Today Yoshida came in, pleaded guilty and paid a fine of $25.

Woman is Fined

Attorney Albert Launer of Brea came before Justice Cox yesterday and wound up a charge of battery brought by Mrs. Josephine Green of La Habra against Mrs. Ella Mueller of La Habra. Mrs. Green had a black eye and exhibited a handful of hair that she said had been jerked from her scalp. Mrs. Mueller said she had merely slapped Mrs. Green. Trial was set for today. Yesterday Launer pleaded guilty for his client, and paid a fine of $5.

AT THE COURTHOUSE

APRICOT TREES CAUSE TROUBLE

Plaintiff Alleges They Were of Nameless, Worthless Variety

Alleging that, with but four exceptions, 200 apricot trees on a ranch at Hemet were not Tilton apricots, suit has been brought by Seldon L. Gathercole against Earl D. Smith to recover a note for $1500 and $600 given Smith for the Hemet ranch. The complaint was originally filed at Riverside, but was transferred to this county on the plea that the defendant lives here.

The complaint states that when the realty transfer was agreed to, the trees were dormant and it was impossible to tell what kind of apricot trees were on the place. The plaintiff alleges that instead of all being of the Tilton variety, nearly all of the trees are of a nameless, worthless variety.

CHARLEY HARPER AND FAMILY HOME FROM VISIT TO RELATIVES

Mr. and Mrs. Charley Harper and family returned last night from a month's visit with Mr. Harper's relatives at Caldwell, Idaho. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Culter, are living there now, as are also his sisters, now married, Miss Thurza being Mrs. Andrew Smith and Miss Bessie being Mrs. Ralph Kirkpatrick. All of these people formerly lived in Santa Ana, the young women being graduates of the local high school.

Mr. Harper reports a fine trip to Idaho, but declares he is glad to get back to Southern California. The weather where he spent the month was not cold, compared with East, as the thermometer did not go below 16 degrees above zero.

FORTY TOMMIES KNEW OF RAID; DIDN'T TELL

LONDON, Dec. 12 (by mail)—General Byng's successful tank advance on Cambrai was due, in the last analysis, to the steadfastness of forty British Tommies.

The morning before the advance was scheduled the Germans made a raid on the very sector behind which 350 tanks were mobilized for the attack. Forty unwilling Tommies returned from the raid with the Boche. When this was known at Byng's headquarters, gloom descended on the camp like a winter fog on London. "Will they put the Germans wise?" was the question on the lips of all the staff, and "if they do we're lost," was their only reply.

Next morning's triumph proved the men had kept their mouths shut during the usual German examination of prisoners.

A high British officer discussing the incident, said the slightest tip about the tanks to the Germans would have meant the total collapse of the tank offensive.

'CHINA' SUBJECT MISSION STUDY OF SOCIETY

Regular Meeting of Women of Presbyterian Church Held
Yesterday Afternoon

The regular monthly meeting of the Presbyterian Missionary Society was held Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. A. E. Bennett.

In the absence of the president, Mrs. Ebel, Mrs. G. W. Pollard acted as chairman. The item of business brought before the meeting was the appointing of a nominating committee to prepare for the annual election of officers at the next meeting. The members of the committee are Mrs. H. O. Kaiser, Mrs. A. E. Bennett, and Mrs. G. W. Pollard. The resignation of Mrs. T. R. Overton as chairman of the music committee and pianist was received with regrets. Mrs. Overton goes soon to live in San Diego.

The devotional exercises were opened by singing "Let the Lower Lights be Burning." Miss Ida Mitchell, of Santa Ana, took the lead by reading and giving an exposition of the beautiful thoughts underlying the 121st Psalm and by leading in prayer. The topic, "China," was in charge of Mrs. H. A. Allen, who read an article which was inspiring to all interested in missions—"Reasonable Optimism" by Rev. Wm. P. Schell, showing that Christianity has stood firm and upright to every wind that blows in China. By hard, cold facts it was shown that Christian missions are much further advanced today than they were in 1914.

Mrs. Allen conducted a very interesting meeting by calling on the different ladies present to contribute articles on the different phases of the subject. There were also letters read from Chinese Christians in their own unique style. There were some amusing features of these letters, but they gave expression to the great earnestness and simple faith of the Chinese Christians.

TUSTIN CHURCH PLEDGES DEBT LONG STANDING

In Half Hour Last Sunday
Morning Congregation
Raises Sum Money

A very interesting congregational meeting was held last Sunday morning at the Tustin Presbyterian church after the regular morning service was over. In about a half hour's time a sum of nine hundred dollars was raised to pay an indebtedness of several years' standing.

On the Sunday morning previous the pastor had reminded those present that a sum of $900 was still owing for paving the street, installing a gas furnace and other small expenses. One gentleman said he would reduce the matter to a simple proportion by saying he would be the thirtieth person to give $30, and another arose and volunteered to be the twenty-ninth. It was decided to take a week to consider the matter, a congregational meeting to be held the next Sunday morning after church service.

When the meeting was called last Sunday a space on the blackboard was divided into thirty squares, representing $30 each. Within a half hour's time all the sections were taken except five and these have since been taken. It is expected that the debt will be paid by April 1st.

RED CROSS NIGHT AT TABERNACLE NETS CAUSE $130; BIEDERWOLF TALKS ON 'CONFESSING CHRIST'

Red Cross night at the Biederwolf tabernacle proved a great success, not only as a religious meeting but also as an occasion for raising funds for the Red Cross. When the special collection taken last night for this cause was counted it was found that $130 had been contributed. This money was immediately turned over to the local chapter of the organization.

Patriotic music featured the opening exercises last night. Stirring singing in which the chorus choir led, and in which the entire congregation joined heartily, prefaced the service. Following this singing Mrs. Sammis sang "The Stars and Stripes Forever," by Sousa.

Nurses from the Orange County Hospital and from the Santa Ana Hospital, together with graduate nurses who could get to the meetings were present and gave a special delegation. Dr. Biederwolf recognized them, commenting on the noble work that they were doing. He then asked everyone in the congregation who had a relative in the army or navy to stand. Nearly 200 people rose to their feet, and while standing Dr. Biederwolf asked them to display their service flags. While they stood, the evangelist called on Dr. Stevenson to lead in prayer for the men bearing the colors, and for the families of these men left at home.

"Do Something for Red Cross"
"This is a fitting time to do something for the Red Cross," said Dr. Biederwolf following the prayer. "Let us see if we cannot help along the work tonight. We had a great meeting this afternoon when we knitted for the Red Cross. At that time Mrs. Gustlin read a fine report of the work the local chapter has done in sending garments to the work. But every Red Cross chapter needs all the funds it can get. It is going to take a great deal more than has been done to make this great cause a success. And this Thrift Stamp campaign that is on—I think that is a wonderful thing. It is great for the boys and girls. I commend it to every boy and girl in Orange County. Let us do something now for the Red Cross which is worth while."

Heaton and Bachemeyer sang "The Old Flag Never Touched the Ground," and as they sang the second chorus a big American flag was unfurled and draped over the pulpit. A burst of applause greeted this patriotic demonstration, and prolonged clapping resulted when they had finished the song.

One Soul Worth Cost
Rev. A. T. O'Rear, chairman of the local executive committee, stated that through an error in accounts, it was found that the expense account was overpaid by about $300. He called attention last night to the work that Dr. Biederwolf has done in Santa Ana. "He has discussed the fundamentals of Christianity," declared Rev. O'Rear, "and the influence of his some of you, too, if you didn't make any confession at all as long as you don't back it up with a decent life.

Confess in Baptism

2. And then of course you are expected to confess Christ in baptism. Well, you say, "Doesn't the Bible say, 'Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ and thou shalt be saved,' and there's nothing said there about baptism?" Yes, but it says in another place, "Repent and be baptized," and there's nothing said there about believing. You've got to take all the teachings of the Bible.

3. And then of course you are expected to confess Christ by joining the church. You say, "Can I be a Christian and not join the church?" Well, I don't know; I wouldn't advise you to try it. Somebody has said you can go to Europe without going in a ship but look out for the sharks. And look out for the sunburns, too!

Confess With Thy Mouth

4. But Paul says, "If thou shalt confess with the mouth," He don't say, "If you are baptized and join the church you'll be saved," and we know well enough that hundreds of people, yes thousands, do this and are really not saved at all. But he does say, "If you confess with your mouth, and believe in your heart, you shall be saved." He takes it for granted of course that you'll do these other things.

Now why does God demand that you make a public confession of your faith? He does it for three reasons.

For Your Own Sake

1. For your own sake. It'll strengthen your faith and give you a little spiritual nerve. A lot of you people want to be Christians. At least you think you do. You say you do. But you've got a prejudice against coming down this aisle. Well, that is not the only way to make a public confession, but I'm afraid it's the only way for a good many of you.

2. He demands it in the second place for the sake of others. Do you know when the Chief Justice of the Court of Appeals of the state of New York walked down the aisle in Rochester when Finney was preaching in the thirties it was a signal for a break in the ranks and every lawyer in the city before many nights had done the same thing and that was the beginning of the great revival which swept 150,000 souls into the kingdom and whose influence has been felt all down the decades to our own time?

You may not have an influence like that, but some one is watching you, and your example is worth more than you estimate.

3. Then in the third place He demands it for Christ's sake. And this is the biggest reason of all.

When the inexorable justice of God demanded that you should die, and there was no hope for you and hell stared you in the face, Jesus stepped in and took the blow for you, and yet some of you haven't the manhood to walk up here and acknowledge Him and you'd like to sneak into the Kingdom of God when so many people wouldn't know it.

I read of a workman who saw a building contractor fall from a high scaffold and he reached up his arms to catch him. The weight of the falling man drove his arms into their sockets, crushed his shoulders, twisted his spine and made him walk the street forever after, an object of pity; and one day some one asked him what had become of the man he had saved. And his face lit up with joy and he said, "Oh, he gave me half of his fortune, he gives me half of his income and never lets me want for anything." Ah, men, we know how to appreciate that. But some of you seem to forget that there was One who was crushed and bent for you, who was wounded for your transgressions and bruised for your iniquities and yet you haven't got the manhood to step out in public and acknowledge Him as your Saviour. You treat Him worse than a brute, some of you. God pity you!

Show Your Colors

Christ says, "Whoever shall confess me before men, him will I confess before my Father who is in heaven." He says, "And whoever shall deny me before men, him will I deny before my Father who is in heaven."

My, but what an hour of triumph that will be for the child of God!

My, but what an hour of triumph that will be for the redeemed of God!

I can see the old devil there accusing us before the Father, but we will have One to stand for us there because we stood for Him down here. The infidel will be there, the boozier will be there, the libertine will be there, the blackleg gambler, the railing Christ-hater and the oppressor of the poor—they will all be there and I see the old devil with a thousand of his imps to help him come up from the nethermost depths of hell and grapple there shrieking, writhing, moaning, cursing, and wrap them about with hell's infernal things and drag them away. And now comes one of the followers of Christ, and the old arch fiend of the underworld is there, already he has his hands upon him, when the voice of Jesus Christ is heard saying, "Father, this one is Mine; I redeemed him with My blood and suffered all that hell could do for his sake. He stood up for me down on earth and now I want to stand up for him up here." And I can see God rise up from his throne and cry, "Hold, stop! That man has an advocate with Me in Jesus Christ, the righteous, and I love him for My Son's sake, and you must let him go." And the angels' choir rises tier upon tier and row upon row. Michael, the archangel, unsheathes his glistening sword and all the angels sing out, "Let him go; turn him loose; he's got an advocate with the Father." And the devil with all his minions turn back and go down to the lowest depths of the dark pit and while they belch their sulphur fumes and curse the God who made a way for men to be saved you can hear the wailing cry of those forever doomed and damned, "Lost! Lost! Lost! We stood before God at the judgment day—we plead our own merits, but they would not do; our sins condemned us and we had no advocate! Listen: What will you do with Jesus, which is called the Christ? If you accept Him God will accept you; if you refuse Him, God will refuse you; and you may, God help you, decide the right way tonight.

THIS WEEK, NERVOUS MOTHER

Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restored Her Health.

Philadelphia, Pa.—"I was very weak, always tired, my back ached, and I felt sickly most of the time. I went to a doctor and he said I had nervous indigestion, which added to my weak condition kept me worrying most of the time—and he said if I could not stop that, I could not get well. I heard so much about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I took it for a week and felt a little better. I kept it up for three months, and I feel fine and can eat anything now without distress or nervousness."—Mrs. J. WORTHLINE, 2442 North Taylor St., Philadelphia Pa.

The majority of mothers nowadays overdo, there are so many demands upon their time and strength; the result is invariably a weakened, run-down, nervous condition with headaches, backache, irritability and depression—and soon more serious ailments develop. It is at such periods in life that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will restore a normal healthy condition, as it did to Mrs. Worthline.

PERSONAL AND SOCIAL NEWS NOTES FROM ORANGE CITY

ORANGE, Jan. 18.—A union prayer meeting, preliminary to the union services to begin January 27, was held in the Baptist church. The attendance was very large, nearly every seat in the auditorium being filled.

Rev. W. H. Galbraith, pastor of the Baptist meeting, led the services. H. W. Allen, leader of the Presbyterian choir, conducting the singing of inspiring hymns. Mr. Allen sang an appropriate solo, "Jesus Holds Me."

W. H. Lowry, a member of the Orange Union high school faculty, gave a talk on "Personal Work." In urging the vital importance of this branch of Christian activity, he said if Christians were offered thousands of dollars for every soul they led to Christ, they would spare no effort to earn the money. Should they not be even more eager to work for the salvation of a priceless soul?

All the time of the meeting was fully occupied, many taking part in the prayer or the testimony. Rev. J. E. Hall, pastor of the Methodist church, in a few rousing words explained the plan of the coming campaign, urging every Christian present to take an active and prayerful part.

After the service, conferences of workers from the four sections into which the city has been divided were held and plans were further explained and discussed.

The regular meeting of Gordon Granger W. R. C. was held with 30 members present, including all the newly-elected officers.

Two applications for membership, received at a previous meeting, were favorably balloted on. The names of members of the various committees for the year were announced. These committees are: Relief, executive, auditing, home and employment and conference.

An active member of the Red Cross spoke of the great need of surgical dressings in France and the demand for workers in this department of the Red Cross. Twelve members present pledged at least one-half day's work on surgical dressings before the next meeting of the corps. Nearly every member of the corps is doing Red Cross work at home and all who feel that they can do so will gladly take up this extra work.

The next meeting of the corps will take place on Wednesday, February 5. There will be initiation of two new members and other important business.

The C. M. P. Club met with Mrs. T. M. Flippen of East Chapman avenue. There being no business to transact the time was spent knitting for the Red Cross.

The house was beautifully decorated with pink roses. At the close of a very pleasant afternoon a two-course luncheon was served.

The February meeting of the club will be held with Mrs. Gilgoly of Fullerton.

RED CROSS FOR WINTERSBURG LATEST WORK UNDERTAKEN

Officers Selected, Expect a Membership of Forty in New Organization

WINTERSBURG, Jan. 17.—An auxiliary of the Santa Ana Red Cross society was formed here last Thursday afternoon, the meeting having been held at the church and presided over by Dr. Magill of Santa Ana.

The officers elected were: Chairman, Mrs. M. Ross; secretary, Mrs. A. H. Moore; chairman knitting committee, Mrs. N. E. Dwyer; chairman sewing committee, Mrs. May Davis.

Thirteen names were put on the membership roll at the meeting and as forty names were promised when plans for the society were being worked up it would seem that the chances for a live organization here in the near future are quite favorable.

Those who enrolled Thursday were: Mrs. N. E. Dwyer, Mrs. M. Ross, Mrs. Frank Ulrich, Mrs. A. Steffanuzzi, Mrs. Sharratt, Mrs. J. S. Moore, Mrs. C. M. Davis, Mrs. Wilfred Lewis, Mrs. May Davis, Mrs. Frenger, Mrs. J. A. Murdy, Mrs. Culver and Mrs. A. H. Moore.

Twelve hospital garments were brought out for the first work and on Friday afternoon the ladies met at Mrs. Steffanuzzi's and learned the intricacies of fashioning them from a finished garment furnished for their benefit. Hereafter the regular meetings will be held on Thursday of each week at Mrs. N. E. Dwyer's home.

Purse for Pastor
The many kind friends of Rev. M. Ross, pastor of the local M. E. church, seem to vie with one another in forming plans, the consummation of which prove to be decidedly for the benefit of this popular minister and are duly appreciated by him and his family.

The latest gift for which Mr. Ross is extending his thanks is that of fifty dollars contributed by a number under the leadership of Messrs. Bradbury and Preston, the sum to go toward the repair of his machine, which was quite badly damaged in a collision, entailing considerable expense.

Before Thanksgiving when Mr. Ross with four members of his family were traveling toward home on the boulevard between here and Los Angeles. The night was foggy, making driving difficult, and another machine traveling on the wrong side of the road ran into the Ross machine, doing the damage. Mr. Ross' little son was injured some but luckily no serious damage resulted except to the machine, the expense of which has been eliminated to a great extent through this generous thoughtfulness of these numerous friends.

Mr. and Mrs. G. C. McKitteric of Cleveland, O., who are spending the winter in Los Angeles, passed last week as guests at the home of the latter's aunt, Mrs. R. E. Larter and still recently by R. E. Larter and still occupied by him has been purchased by Geo. Gothard and will be moved soon onto his ranch.

The local pulpit was supplied on last Sunday morning by Rev. H. H. Roissy, pastor of the Westminster M. E. Church, Rev. Ross filling the pulpit at that place. The day was the occasion of a general exchange of pulpits throughout the Los Angeles conference of the M. E. Church for the endowment campaign that is now on to raise one million dollars for the universities. "Religious Education" was the subject used for the addresses of the day.

A party of young men composed of Jim and Clement Maddux, Phil Phillips and Will Ruetheer of this place and Chas. Walton of Westminster left here Saturday on a hunting trip in the Newhall district. The party went in machines and passed Saturday night at the Newhall tunnel, which afforded them shelter from the rain. A number of rabbits were killed before their return Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Faarar entertained Saturday and Sunday Mrs. Faarar's niece and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Smith, who are of Denver, Colo., and Mr. Faarar's nephew and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Chelmer Faarar of Lordsburg. The guests upon leaving here went to Huntington Beach to visit with Mr. and Mrs. Earl Faarar.

Dr. and Mrs. Lyttell of Santa Ana were guests for the day Sunday of the latter's sister, Mrs. J. T. Stockton, and family.

Mrs. Horton has been quite sick with la grippe the past week at the home of her daughter, Mrs. D. D. Gardner, but is now improving. This is examination week at the Oceanview school and a trying week for both pupils and teachers. Frances Strain, a newcomer in the neighborhood, is a new pupil enrolled the first of the week in Miss Jordan's room.

Mrs. Fred Beckwith's mother, Mrs. Hopkins, was taken very sick last week, remaining so for several days. She is now greatly improved. Gardner Nichols of Sawtelle was a Sunday visitor at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Nichols.

J. L. Worthy and family spent Sunday as guests at the T. J. Worthy and James Robinson homes. They are of Covina.

Fred Beckwith came over from Torrance to spend Saturday and Sunday with his wife and family.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Graham left Thursday evening for Blythe for a visit with their sons, who are ranching in that valley. Miss Etelle Graham is a guest at the Frank Ulrich home during her parents' absence.

Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Gothard were entertained Sunday evening at dinner by Mr. and Mrs. M. Smith at their home in Los Angeles. The sumptuous dinner was served at 4 o'clock, coaxed

Messrs. Emil and John Kettler each have a new Jordan "Six," purchased in Los Angeles, the former's car being delivered last week and the latter's this week.

Mrs. Anna Campbell of Huntington Beach spent the week-end as a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George McKurk.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Murdy and family of Westminster were Sunday evening visitors at the home of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Murdy.

Mrs. H. B. Johnson of Santa Ana was a visitor Friday at Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Dimock's home.

Mrs. Wm. Keseman has been quite ill for several days and her daughter, Mrs. J. O. Pyle, has been caring for her.

Wm. Keseman made the trip to Berkeley last Friday for a short visit with his son, Wm. Keseman, Jr., who is a member of the aviation corps enrolled at the aviation school at that place. Mr. Keseman had a most enjoyable trip and found his son well and entirely taken up with his duties, with which he is highly delighted. Mr. Keseman returned home Monday.

The local Senior Y. M. C. A. boys played the Anaheim team at basket ball at Anaheim last Saturday evening, the game ending with the score in favor of the Anaheim team. The home team motored over together in the Vandurff machine. Those on the team were: Leonard Cady, Leon Moore, Loren Maddux, Paul VanDuff and John Murdy.

Mrs. E. M. Fox and little girls, who were the victims of the perilous accident Saturday evening when their machine was wrecked by the high powered machine driven by Judd, are recovering nicely from the bruises sustained and are also gradually overcoming the severe nervous shock sustained. The latter effect proved more serious than the bruises, although they were quite painful. A doctor was called immediately to attend Carlita, the elder of the two little girls, who at first seemed badly hurt, but upon examination the injuries proved not to be of a serious nature.

An anti-saloon league speaker will be in charge of the morning services next Sunday at the M. E. church at Wintersburg. The speaker's name has not yet been learned.

LOS ANGELES PRODUCE MARKET
Apples are, with the exception of standards, 1/4 cent higher right down the line. Peaches show no change. The fancy grades in Muirs are getting a little strengthening in value. In the larger sizes, particularly in 50's and 60's.

The produce government is taking these sizes altogether in its orders, and they are extremely scarce. This, naturally, has an effect on the sizes just below, and there is hope to improve in basis price.

There was no change in prices at yesterday's session of the Produce Exchange.

AMERICAN AND GERMAN IDEAS AND IDEALS

SIGNIFICANT UTTERANCES OF PRESIDENT WILSON

"The Duty and Opportunity of The American of German Birth"

Masterly Patriotic Address by Otto H. Kahn, Heroically Following the Footsteps of the Immortal Carl Schurz

Sharp Distinction Drawn by American People and United States Government Between the German People and The German Government

(Public address in Milwaukee, by Otto H. Kahn, New York Banker.)

In the gloomy and accusing procession of infinite sorrow and pain inflicted on Americans of German descent, the iron has entered our souls.

We have been wantonly robbed of invaluable possessions, which have come down to us through the centuries; we have been rendered ashamed of that in which we took pride; we have been made the enemies of those of our own blood; our very names carry the sound of a challenge to the world.

Surely we have all too valid a title to rank among those most bitterly aggrieved by Prussianism, and to align ourselves in the very forefront of those fighting to rid the world forever of that malignant growth.

I do not seek forgiveness for my German birth. I am proud of the illustrious contributions which the German people have made to the imperishable assets of the world.

Served in German Army 30 Years Ago

Until the outbreak of the war, I maintained active personal and business relations with Germany. I served in the German army thirty years ago.

But I am ashamed—bitterly and grievously ashamed—of the Germany which stands convicted before the high tribunal of the world's public opinion of having planned and waged war; of the revolting deeds committed in Belgium and Northern France; of the infamy of the Lusitania murders; of innumerable violations of the law of nations; of abominable plotting in friendly countries and shameless abuse of their hospitality; of crime heaped upon crime in hideous defiance of the laws of God and man.

Now, America, the never-defeated, has thrown her sword into the scale, because to do so was indispensable for our honor, the preservation of our institutions and our very destiny.

Plotting For a Generation

"I know something from actual experience of the plotting of the Prussian war party and how for a full generation they have endeavored again and again to bring about a situation which would force war upon the world.

The American of German descent, who, at this time of test and trial, does not serve the land of adoption with every ounce of his power, perjures himself and proves himself guilty of treacherous duplicity.

Thank heaven, the number of those failing in loyalty is far too small to affect the record of German birth for good citizenship.

There is abundant evidence that the overwhelming majority will not permit the blood in their veins to drawn the conscience in their breasts. It is hard, indeed, for us to arraign publicly the country from which we sprang and to turn against our own kin and kin, however deep our detestation of their wrongdoing, under the sway of Prussian caste.

These scruples are honorable, but to my thinking are stamped out by the iron tread of the times.

Time to Speak Out
I believe we should speak out, we Americans of German birth, because we have been misrepresented to our fellow citizens and to the world by a small minority of pernicious agitators by no means all of German birth.

We must protect the German name, as far as it is in our keeping in America. It has always, and rightly, been an honored name here.

We should speak out, because our voices may reach the ear and conscience of the German people when no other voices can, and because they will reach the ear of its rulers.

These, I know, counted upon the support of the German-born in America, and now they count upon that support to agitate for an inconclusive and unrighteous peace.

I believe that we should convince our native-born fellow citizens that the taint of Germany is not in the blood, but in the system of rulership.

There are some of you, probably, who will still find it hard to believe that the Germany you knew can be guilty of the crimes which have made it an outlaw.

But do you know modern Germany?
(Concluded in Last Two Columns of this Page)

AMERICA'S WAR AIMS UTTERLY UNSELFISH

Speaking before a mass meeting at the Auditorium in Milwaukee Sunday night, Mr. Otto H. Kahn, of the banking firm of Kuhn, Loeb & Co., of New York City, said:

America is not waging a war of vengeance or hatred, notwithstanding all the injuries and measureless provocations we have received. The divine lesson which two thousand years ago, on the mountain, was given to the people of the earth, still holds good as the only safe lodestar for the guidance of the world. We have lighted a fire to purify, not to burn at the stake.

If ever a nation entered a war after having maintained infinite forbearance in the face of grave menace and dangers and the most intolerable provocations, and from motives as pure and as high as the great blue dome of heaven, America is that nation. We seek no reward whatsoever of a material nature.

We seek no "place in the sun"—to use the German Chancellor's term—except the sun of liberty, and that, we do not seek selfishly, but to share with all the world.

America is incapable of hating an entire people, but we do hate, we are fighting and we shall fight with every ounce of our might, the spirit which has power over the people of Germany, and which, if it were to prevail—as, under God, it never will—would destroy liberty, justice and democracy.

It was not the people of Great Britain which America fought in the War of the Revolution, but the spirit and the ruling caste which then held sway over them. America fought then for an ideal and for liberty and independence, and sacrificed blood and treasure and suffered and endured and won. And so it will be now.

A Clear Understanding Supremely Important

Speaking in very general terms, and for the purpose of this statement, the people of this country may be divided into two great groups—those of American birth and origin and those of German birth and origin.

At this time of international crisis, thinking men regard it as supremely important that there shall be no misunderstanding on the part of either of these groups as to the ideals, attitudes, principles or sentiments of the other.

Nothing could be more subversive of the best interests of the country than that such a misunderstanding should arise, or that either group should harbor, secretly, a distorted or mistaken impression as to the other.

Perhaps the most important phase of the sympathetic understanding that should be sought and given is the clear distinction made by both the American people and the Government of the United States between the German PEOPLE and the German Government.

But hardly less important is the very radical distinction that is made in the minds and hearts of both People and Government between "alien enemies" within our gates and our respected and highly esteemed, loyal and patriotic fellow citizens of German blood and heritage.

And the American People and the Federal Government are especially desirous that our compatriots of German blood—both loyal citizens and friendly potential citizens—shall understand that our condemnation and abhorrence for the native enemy is even greater than for the alien enemy, for the alien enemy is at least not a traitor.

All these distinctions are clearly stated, and American ideals are beautifully and eloquently expressed in an address recently delivered, at Milwaukee, on "The Duty and Opportunity of the German of American Birth," by Otto H. Kahn, of the New York banking firm of Kuhn, Loeb & Co. America is no less proud of Mr. Kahn as a citizen than his "Fatherland" should be, and its People no doubt are proud of him as a son of the good and great Germany that was—and may yet be—the Germany to which he still gives his love and loyalty, while hating and fighting Prussianism with all his heart and soul. Mr. Kahn's address is a classic. Nothing inner has been uttered from the rostrum since the days of Carl Schurz—that other loving and loyal son of the good and great Germany—but implacable hater of Prussianism—who gave his whole allegiance and his brilliant talents—literally gave his life—to this, his adopted, country.

Another important contribution to the literature on this subject is an article entitled "The German Government and the German People," by William English Walling, prepared for the National Committee of Public Information.

Both of these great documents are published herewith, and over 5000 copies of this paper are being distributed in Orange County, as part of the Register's contribution to the campaign of popular patriotic publicity that is being so generously financed by the large business interests of Santa Ana and vicinity.

THE GERMAN GOVERNMENT AND THE GERMAN PEOPLE

BY WILLIAM ENGLISH WALLING.

(Published at the request of the National (official) Committee of Public Information.)

Nothing is more certain in this war than that the attitude of the American people toward the German people and our attitude toward the German Government are two separate and distinct things. The President has lost no opportunity to voice the American position in this matter. In all of his addresses since the beginning of the war he has touched upon this distinction. But he has only been able to discuss limited phases of this great and vitally important subject in each speech; it is only when we put all of his references to the German people together that we realize how completely he has stated the feeling of America.

Let us show briefly how the President has stated (1) the relation of the German Government to the German people, (2) the attitude of the German people toward its Government and toward the present war, (3) the feeling of the people of the United States toward the German people, and (4) the reasons why we are at present engaged in fighting both the German Government and the German people.

I. German Government and German People

In his message calling for a declaration of war against Germany, President Wilson spoke of the German Government as one that "did what it pleased and told the people nothing," and further referred to that government as an "autocracy" backed by organized force which is controlled wholly by its will, and not by the will of its people.

Since this great address the President's references to the character of the German Government and its attitude toward the German and other peoples have been frequent. One quotation from his Flag Day speech (June 14) will be sufficient to define his well-known position:

"The war was begun by the military masters of Germany, who proved to be also the masters of Austria-Hungary. These men have never regarded nations as peoples, men, women, and children of like blood and frame as themselves, for whom governments existed and in whom governments had their life. They have regarded them merely as serviceable organizations which they could, by force and intrigue, bend or corrupt to their own purpose."

II. The Position of the German People

The President has carefully and repeatedly stated the tragic position of the German people at the present moment as we Americans see it. He has said that this people did not originate, choose, or desire this hideous war, "or wish that we should be drawn into it" (June 14). "It was not upon their impulse that their government acted in entering the war. It was not with their previous knowledge or approval." (April 2)

The President has gone out of his way to pay a sincere tribute to the sterling qualities of the German people as recognized by the overwhelming majority of Americans. In his address to the American Federation of Labor at Buffalo (Nov. 13) he said:

"I believe that the spirit of freedom can get into the hearts of Germans and find as fine a welcome there as it can find in any other hearts, but the spirit of freedom does not suit the plans of the pan-Germans."

But it is not necessary for us to enter further into the virtues or other characteristics of the German people. The essential question involved is their attitude toward the people of America. The President has stated at the very beginning of the war that we did not believe that the German people cherished toward us "any hostile feeling or purpose." (Apr. 2)

III. The Attitude of America Toward the German People

Feeling that it was impossible that the German people, apart from the German ruling classes, can, or did, harbor any hostility toward America (see above), the President thus expressed the general conviction that "we are the enemies of the German people and they are not our enemies." (June 14.)

The belief is almost universal in this country that "we are fighting their cause as they will some day see it, as well as our own." (June 14.)

In the opening message of the war the President categorically declared:

"We have no quarrel with the German people. We have no feeling toward them but one of sympathy and friendship." This expression met with the practically unanimous approval of the entire American people. In his Flag Day speech (June 14) the President further declared: "This is a people's war, a war for freedom and justice and self-government amongst all the nations of the world, a war to make the world safe for the peoples who live upon it and have made it their own, the German people themselves included."

many? Unless you have been there within the last twenty-five years at regular intervals; unless you have seen how the soul of Germany was being eaten away by the virulent poison of Prussianism, you do not know the Germany of this day.

It is not the Germany, even, of Bismarck, man of blood and iron though he was, who had built a structure which gave promise of going down into history as one of the greatest examples of beneficent autocracy.

The Germany at whose monstrous deeds the civilized nations stand aghast started into definite being less than thirty years ago.

With it and from it there came a national forward movement almost unequalled in history. The Germany was conquering the earth by peaceful penetration.

And no one stood in its way. It had free access to all the seas and all the lands.

But with that "new course" there came upon the German people a whole train of new and baneful influences and impulses, overweening arrogance, an impatient contempt for the rights of the weak, a mania for world domination.

Rulers Follow Tempter

There came also a fixed and irrational distrust of the intentions of other nations, for the evil which had crept into their own souls made them see evil in others. And finally the tempter took the Prussianized rulers on a high mountain and showed them the capitals of the earth, teeming with peaceful labor—Brussels, Paris, London, aye, and New York—and told them: "Use your power ruthlessly and they are yours."

And those rulers said: "Go ahead, Satan, and we shall follow thee."

Truly, history affords no parallel to the spiritual poisoning of a whole people. Nor would I believe that such a dreadful phenomenon could possibly take place were it not for my own eyes.

My observations led me to think, however, that Prussianism had reached the crest some years before the war, and that liberal tendencies were beginning to make headway. There were many men in Germany who saw the dangers arising, and raised their voices against them in warning.

There was the ever-increasing Socialist vote.

I am by no means sure that the very growth and spread of that liberal spirit did not have some influence in causing the militarist clique to precipitate the war.

To deceive the German people, the Prussian rulers have kept reaffirming with disgusting hypocrisy that theirs was a defensive war, forced upon them by wicked and envious neighbors. A decisive war, indeed.

The Prussian militarist party, seeing in their grasp an opportunity for which they had plotted thirty years, did not shrink from the catastrophe which was involved.

I know something from actual and personal experience in the plotting of the Prussian war party.

Stage Set Long Ago

I know of my personal knowledge that the stage was set six or seven years ago in connection with the Agadir episode. I know that the Pan-Germans meant to have a footing in South America, and once there had prepared plans to threaten this country of ours.

I know that Austria in 1913 meant to conquer Serbia, and so informed her then ally, Italy. Austria did not believe that its ultimatum to Serbia would bring on a serious war.

I know it because I saw a letter from a gentleman closely connected with the Austrian foreign office, in which, writing under date of about July 20, 1914, he said:

"We are now passing through a nerve-wearing time because of our difficulty with Serbia, but by the time this letter reaches you everything will be all right again. The Serbians have been intriguing against us these many years, and this time they must be settled for good and all. We shall take Belgrade, but inasmuch as we have given assurance to Russia that we shall not permanently interfere with the independence of Serbia, and inasmuch as neither Russia nor her allies are ready to fight, the whole thing will be a military promenade and have no serious consequences."

A defensive war! Was it a defense war which Prussianism was thinking of when it declined England's repeated offer for a reduction by both countries of the building of warships; when it refused at the last Hague conference to discuss the limitation of standing armies and armaments; when Germany, all alone among the great nations—rejected our offer of a treaty of arbitration?

Nietzsche's Prediction

Years before the war, Nietzsche, than whom no man had greater influence in shaping German thought, wrote: "You shall love peace as a means to prepare for new wars. You say that a good cause may hallow even war, but I say to you that it is a good war which hallows every cause."

On July 29, 1914, the well informed German newspaper Vorwaerts declared: "The Camarilla of war lords is working with absolute unscrupulous means to carry out their fearful designs to precipitate a world war."

In October, 1914, Maximilian Harden, one of the most influential of German publicists, wrote: "Let us renounce those miserable efforts to excuse the actions of Germany in declaring war. The war has not been imposed upon us by others. We have willed the war. It was our duty to will it."

It is worth mentioning that since then Maximilian Harden has seen a new light.

A number of influential men in Germany, like him, have undergone a change of mind and heart.

A defensive war! There are certain telegrams from Sir Edward Grey, the British Minister of Foreign Affairs, to the British ambassador in Germany, sent during the week preceding the war, which even to this day are unknown in Germany, as they were never permitted to be published.

The British foreign minister went almost on his knees to beg Germany to consent to a conference to avoid war. He promised benevolent consideration for Germany's viewpoint and wishes, and he stated that if Germany would put forward any reasonable proposition honestly calculated to maintain peace England would support it and if France and Russia would not fall in line England would promptly separate itself from these two countries.

Pleas Unanswered

These pleas met with no response from the masters of Germany. They declared war. Upon them rests the blood guilt of this dreadful catastrophe.

If ever a nation entered a war after having maintained infinite forbearance in the face of almost intolerable provocation, America is that nation.

We seek no "place in the sun"—to use the German chancellor's term—except the Sun of Liberty.

America is incapable of hating an entire people, but we do hate, and we shall fight with every ounce of our might, the spirit which has power over the people of Germany, and which, if it were to prevail, would destroy liberty, justice and democracy.

The enemy is of formidable strength. But even if he were far stronger our cause must win, for there is fighting with us a force which has ever proved itself stronger than any other power on earth. That force God-inspired, death-defying and unconquerable, is the soul of man.

The German PEOPLE Did Not Will the War

(Otto H. Kahn in an address entitled "Duty and Opportunity of the American of German Birth.")

War might perhaps have come then or at some other time, even if the Prussian rulers had not precipitated it. But the fact remains that it was the Imperial German Government which did declare war.

For having anticipated that "perhaps," and resolved it according to their own plans and wishes, for that, their initial crime, and for those which followed, the rulers of the German people will have to answer before the judgment stool of God and history. Upon them rests the blood-guilt for this dreadful catastrophe which has befallen the world.

A few days ago I read a poem addressed to Germany, of which these lines have remained in my memory:

"Oh, land of now, oh, land of then,
Dear God, the dreams, the dreams of men!
Enslaved, immersed in greed and hate,
Where are the things which made you great?"

Gentlemen, the things which made Germany great are not dead, and the world cannot afford to allow them to die. They belong to the imperishable assets of the human race.

They have passed, for the time being, alas, out of the keeping of the mass of the German people, whose immortal inheritance they were.

They are now in the keeping of that minority, not, perhaps, very great as yet, but growing steadily, of men in Germany itself from whose eyes the scales have begun to fall.

They are in the keeping of all the nations who appreciate and cherish and are determined to maintain those great and high things which the civilized world has attained through the toil, sacrifice and suffering of its best in the course of many centuries. And, above all, they are in the keeping of the fifteen or twenty millions of Americans of German descent.

As that great American of German birth, Carl Schurz, and many other brave and high-minded Germans—my own father, I am proud to say, among them—in 1848 stood in arms against Prussian oppression for liberal ideas and right and truth and freedom, so do we stand now.

In fighting for the cause of America as loyal Americans, we are fighting at the same time for the deliverance of the country of our birth from those unrighteous powers which held it enthralled and fed upon its soul.
